BUILDING A WINNING

team

IS NOT A GAME OF CHANCE

Making a smart business decision to capture the right person with the right skills and experience is one thing, but finding someone with the right behaviour is the real name of the game!

The Drake P3[®] Predictive Performance Profiling System is an assessment technology that measures individual performance characteristics across five behavioural traits. The Drake P3 helps you to find, select, manage, motivate and retain top performers by enhancing your selection process and developing leadership skills within your team.

The Drake P3 benchmarks your existing "best-in-class" performers to identify the behaviours that spell success in your organisation. Using the Drake P3 to benchmark your top performers, we develop your ideal job profile. We then use this job profile to actively conduct searches throughout North America (or across the world, if necessary!) for candidates with the right behavioural and performance fit.

The Drake P3 generates a variety of reports to develop leadership, communication and coaching skills of your managers and to build dynamic teams based on individual strengths and behavioural styles.

To experience firsthand the power of the Drake P3, attach your business card to this flyer and fax it to:
